

UMB CARES Act Higher Education Emergency Funds – Student Reporting

University of Maryland Baltimore (UMB) received $ 1,038,952 in Higher Education Emergency Funds to award to students. To date $ 485,170 ($92,500 undergraduate students and $ 401,170 graduate/professional students) has been distributed to students for living expenses, child care, technology equipment, medical expenses and books and supplies.

UMB estimated 133 undergraduate and 1950 graduate/professional students were eligible for funding. UMB selected students that were eligible for Title IV federal student aid as well as students who had borrowed a federal student loan during the 2019-2020 academic year.

UMB has providing Higher Education Emergency Funds to 93 undergraduate and 803 graduate/professional students. Students were asked to complete an online certification form indicating how they were impacted by the disruption of in person instruction.
